"This seminar is a unique opportunity to learn Shimamura Sensei's clinically effective constitutional approaches to treating female physiology in all stages of life. Attendees will learn diagnostic and treatment methods to regulate gynaecological conditions and boost fertility as well as how to treat throughout pregnancy, post partum conditions and menopausal disorders. A great chance to rapidly develop your diagnostics and treatment skills for this important patient demographic."

Peter Scarselletti | Director of Qiology

In January 2018, Qiology has invited Tsuyoshi Shimamura Brisbane & Melbourne, Australia for:
The Wisdom of Master Nagano Seminar Series 2018.

Over the last years, Tsuyoshi Shimamura has been covering his core curriculum in various cities in Australia, and has also offered a number of Special Topics Seminars to not only augment the skillsets that attendees of the Core Curriculum seminars have gained, but also to allow those not doing the Core Curriculum to attend and benefit from learning unique topics and special techniques, that do not require having to attend previous seminars, and allow rapid learning of theory and techniques that can be utilised for outstanding results in the clinic instantly.

In 2018, we will be holding this unique Special Topics Seminar in Brisbane only.

Tsuyoshi Shimamura

The clinically relevant Special Topics Seminar covered by Shimamura this year is:

Menarche to Menopause:

Unique Japanese Acupuncture Strategies for Female Physiology:
Menstruation | Fertility | Pregnancy | Post-Partum | Menopause

Brisbane: Saturday 13th- Sunday 14th January 2018

This seminar is delivered in Japanese and will be interpreted by Seishiro Hokazono, in his dynamic and energetic style.

This particular Special Topics Seminar was selected, as effectively treating all female conditions whilst treating constitutionally is an essential component in the modern Acupuncturist's clinical repertoire. This seminar will provide you with the means to treat on a deep constitutional level whilst treating all female conditions at all stages of life.

All practitioners/students may attend Special Topics seminars on offer. No prerequisites required.

Menarche to Menopause:

Unique Japanese Acupuncture Strategies for Female Physiology: Menstruation | Fertility | Pregnancy | Post-Partum | Menopause

Lecture & Demonstration: 100%
No prerequisites required

This is an essential seminar for improving your clinical results in treating female physiology, using unique Japanese Acupuncture diagnostics and treatment techniques.

Shimamura Sensei will teach and demonstrate a variety of diagnostics, acupuncture techniques, counseling methods & patient recommendations specific to treating female conditions, from his apprenticeship with the late Master Nagano and 20+ years of clinical experience.

Lecture and demonstration will focus on treating constitutionally, based on the presentation of our demo patients, as well as specific focus areas and peculiar treatment methods based on differing presenting Gynaecological & Obstetric conditions.

We will focus on the most commonly encountered Obstetric & Gynaecological conditions.

Topics to be covered include

Constitutional Treatment:

- The importance of correct constitutional treatment though correct diagnosis in order to achieve outstanding clinical results in Obstetric & Gynaecological conditions, and in all patients.
- Model of the "Tree of Life": Shimamura Sensei will explore this acupuncture theoretical model to frame his clinical experience and explain constitutional treatment principles.
- Using palpation and pulse techniques to accurately diagnose, to inform constitutional treatment.
- How to apply Stomach Qi treatment and Kidney treatment based on the constitutional presentation of patients.
- Demonstration of how to apply Stomach Qi treatment from different locations in the body, including various needle and manual techniques.
- Order of treatment: Stomach Qi > Kidney Qi > Liver Blood > Water
- Central Theme: Strengthen the Foundational Qi, Prenatal Qi and Postnatal Qi.

Gynaecological/Obstetric Specific Treatment:

- Which treatment principles/approaches and point selections may be used for specific Obstetric & Gynaecological issues and their differing presentations.
- Fertility Essentials- Unique treatment methodologies and point selections.
- Infertility: Differentiation of infertility: Known pathology and Western diagnosis Vs No-Known Western Diagnosis.
- Male Infertility: How to determine when this is the cause of inability to naturally conceive.
- Guiding healthy pregnancy through the 3 Trimesters.
- Counseling pregnant mothers with post-partum care and acupuncture treatment.
- Menopausal issues: Is it just Kidney Yin Deficiency?- Unique perspectives on Menopause.

Other Techniques covered:

- Acupuncture Techniques of contact needling and insertion techniques.
- Manual techniques to improve Pelvic Stability & Balance.
- Application of Moxa
- Palpation: Pulse, Abdomen, Legs & Pelvis
- Tongue diagnosis

Live treatment demonstrations will be performed on local patients from attendees' clinics on a variety of clinical presentations to give attendees the unique perspective of the methods and importantly the order of how Shimamura Sensei treats: Menstrual issues, fertility issues, pregnant mothers, postpartum recovery difficulty, menopausal issues.

We will be treating many patients. Please bring as many patients as possible for a great seminar! We will provide an online booking sheet to attendees to book their patients in prior to the seminar.

Who was Master Nagano?

In post-war Japan, Master Acupuncturist Kiyoshi Nagano began a remarkable and fruitful investigation. Despite being blind, Nagano memorized Chinese canonical literature and developed a unique and ingenious theoretical and clinical approach that incorporated classical concepts and emergent insights from Western medicine.

His ideas and methods did not follow an established group, which brought a certain stigma in Japanese acupuncture circles. Being mentally robust, he was proud of his 'lone wolf' status.

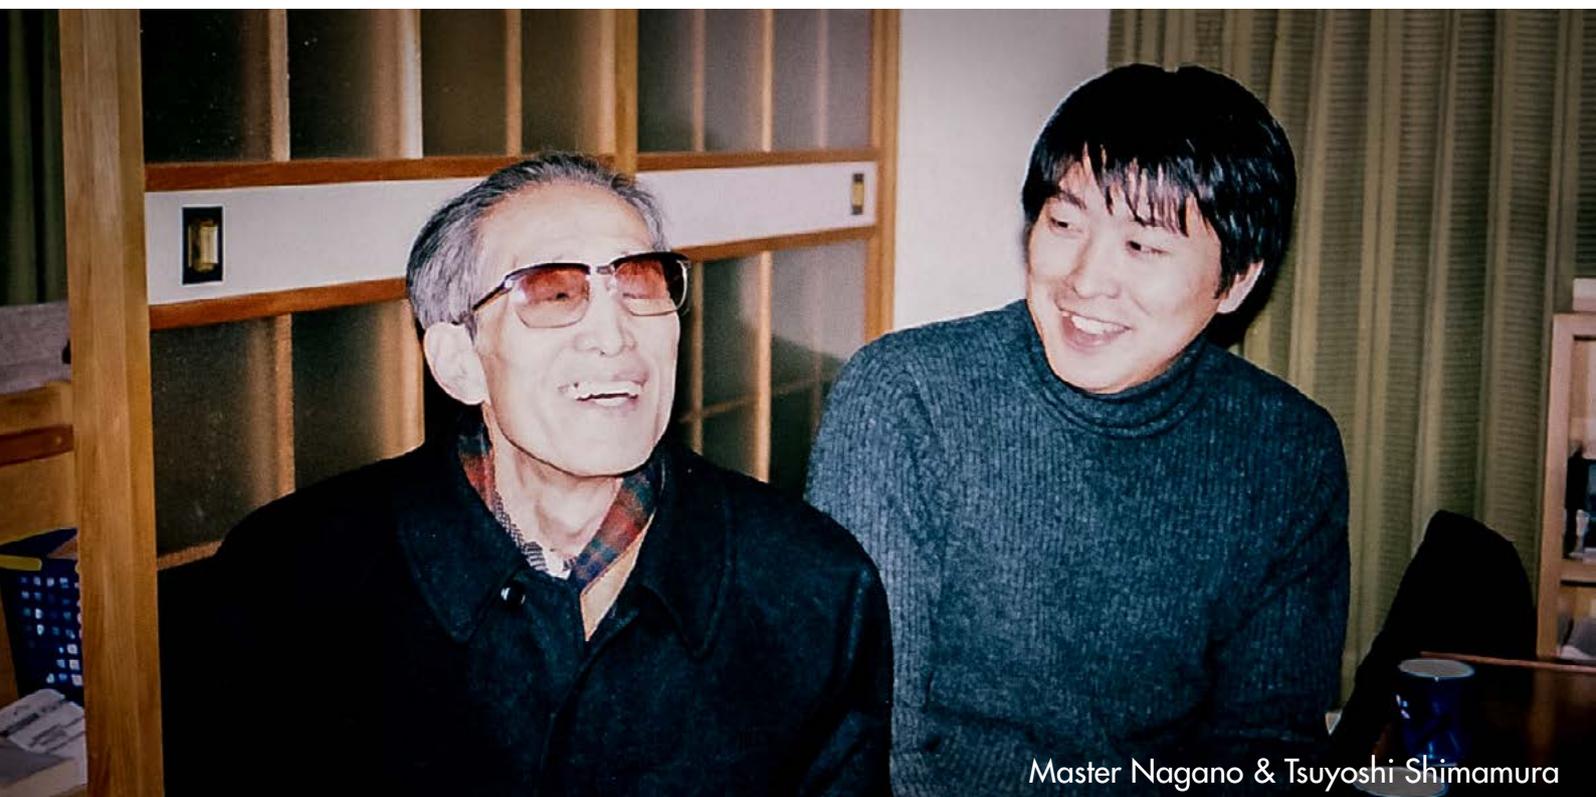

Over the next half a century - using his extraordinary palpation and pulse diagnosis skills as a guide - he crafted ingenious acupuncture strategies for all types of conditions.

He also became a mentor to two of the most important Japanese acupuncture teachers of our time: Master Acupuncturist Kiiko Matsumoto and Tsuyoshi Shimamura.

Master Nagano passed away in 2003.

Master Nagano

Master Nagano & Tsuyoshi Shimamura

"Please remember to go back to "Stomach Qi", when you find yourself confused and troubled. One should go back to Stomach Qi to create the beautiful acupuncture treatment, like a flowing river. This is an ideal treatment that Master Nagano taught me. "

Tsuyoshi Shimamura

Tsuyoshi Shimamura, L.Ac. (Japan)

Tsuyoshi Shimamura obtained licensure as an Acupuncturist and Moxibustionist in Japan in 1995 after completing studies at Meiji Acupuncture and Moxibustion College. Shimamura was fortunate to undertake a live-in apprenticeship with Master Nagano during the final years of Master Nagano's life, living and working with Master Nagano between 1997 and 2000 as his closest apprentice.

Shimamura not only inherited a vast amount of Nagano's teachings, techniques, and theories but also gained an important insight into his character. Tsuyoshi Shimamura is a member of the Japan Acupuncturist Association, and has also published articles and DVDs for Ido-No-Nippon. Since 2006, Shimamura has been teaching seminars on the Acupuncture and diagnostic methods he learned during his time with Master Nagano. Shimamura has also taught a variety of hands-on manual techniques to Shiatsu practitioners, physical therapists, Bone-Setters and cosmetic therapists in Japan.

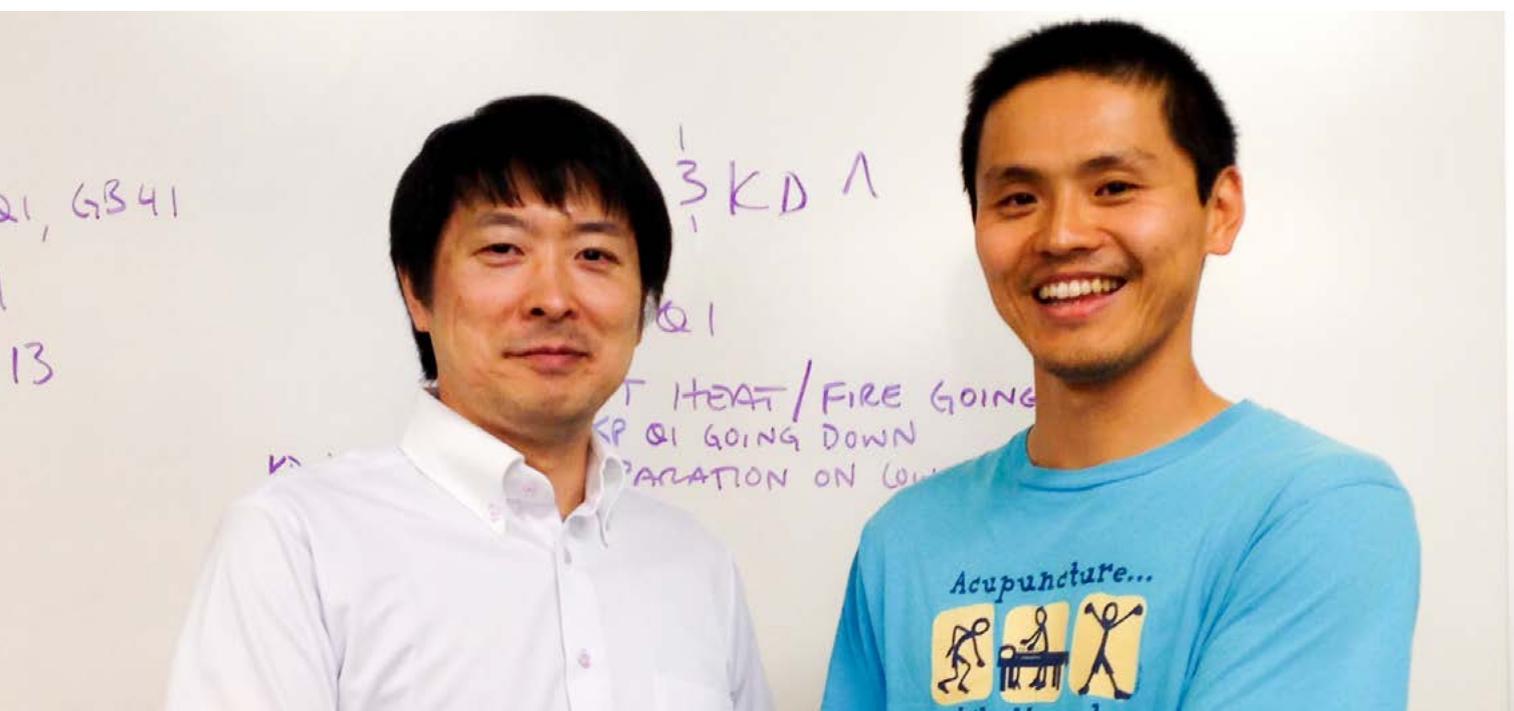

Mr. Shimamura currently develops what he has learned with Master Nagano personally during their time together, and what he has learned from Master Acupuncturist Kiiko Matsumoto, as in his heart there is no replacement for their teachings, and as a result Mr. Shimamura focuses only on teaching openly and passionately to his students, that which he learned directly from Master Nagano and Kiiko Matsumoto, the most inspirational influences in Shimamura's life.

In recent years, Shimamura has impressed international students with his clarity and depth of understanding, his mindful presence, and his commitment to sharing Master Nagano's legacy. Tsuyoshi Shimamura runs clinics in Hiroshima and Ooita, Japan, and holds a 1st Degree Black-Belt in Judo.

Seishiro Hokazono L.Ac. - Interpreter

Born and raised in Japan, and now a citizen of the US, Seishiro graduated from the Southwest Acupuncture College in Santa Fe, New Mexico, and undertook further studies in Meridian-style Acupuncture and Moxibustion with Aizawa Sensei in Tokyo, Japan from 2006-2007. Seishiro then studied modified KSA and Integrated Synergy Therapeutics under Nakano Sensei in 2008 in Las Cruces, New Mexico. From 2008 onwards Seishiro developed very sound knowledge and skills in Kiiko Style Acupuncture.

Due to his exceptional linguistic skills in Japanese and English and experience with interpreting specific to acupuncture, Seishiro has been selected by Qiology as interpreter to Mr. Shimamura, to assist English speaking students in learning Master Nagano's Acupuncture techniques, diagnosis and theory through Mr. Shimamura. Seishiro is in full-time practice in Albany, Oregon, and also holds a 1st Degree Black-Belt in Judo.

"Te A Te Hari"

"Pour passion and heart into your hands." This unforgettable command is what Master Nagano told me as I started my three-year apprenticeship with him. I always wonder if I am properly executing his command as I needle myself every morning. One of Master Nagano's patients told me: "Just having a touch of Sensei's hands makes me feel better. His hands remind me of my mother."

I still remember his warm hands when I first received his handshake. I cannot do the same acupuncture treatment like Master Nagano. But, I feel the calling to pass his command to other fellow colleagues. I would like to bring in the passion as I diagnose patients with my hands. I pour my heart into every needle to help alleviate the suffering. If I can transmit this message via how I show my treatment style through seminars, I feel comfortable naming my style: Te A Te Hari. Te A Te means "laying a hand", "treatment", and "appropriate preparation or allowance". Hari = Needle. I believe that actual treatment can start by touching a patient. Thus, having a healing hand is very important to any practitioners. Please join me in a conversation of realizing my master's words.
